LOCAL WAR NEWS

MAKES NO MENTION OF

LIEUTENANT STEVENSON

MOUNT PLEASANT, Aug. 21.—Mrs. Bert Crusan on Monday received a letter from her husband, a member of Company E, written in a hospital in France and dated August 2, stating that he had been wounded in the left leg above the knee and that he was writing in bed. He gave a list of the boys from Company E and the Machine Gun Company who had been killed in action—the exact list that had been received here and in Scotland. Crusan said that he stood very close to Raymond Maloy of the Machine Gun company when he was killed. This relieved the anxiety caused by the report that Lieutenant William C. Stevenson had been killed, for it is thought here that had Stevenson been killed Crusan would have mentioned it.

WANTS TO GET TO FRONT

TO GET ONE GERMAN.

"I have not been on the front line yet but we are located not so far from it. I wish we could go up now as I would like to get just one German."

that I could feel that I had done my part in this misadventure for the cause for which we were here." Thus does Harry Edwards, of Connelville, member of the 601st Engineers, Headquarters Detachment, express himself writing to R. G. Coughenour, of East Green street. "I think it would be great. Well, Bob, everything is fine. There is not a thing that anyone could want, except the ladies. The French dames—I have a pretty one to look upon. Well, we are just close enough to hear the big guns on the front. That makes me want to get up close. Most of the boys feel the same. If you were here you would understand it much better."

NBODY OVER THERE

LIKE BOYS IN KHAKI.

Writing to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Patrick, of the West Side, Frank Patrick, member of the 305th Ammunition Train, now in France, says in part:

"The Huns are getting their share of war and when we get started once again, look out, Germans! I suppose you have heard by this time about the U. S. boys giving them hell. In three days we got only 40,000 prisoners and 390 guns—not so bad for a start. It was only yesterday I was talking to a French aviator. You should hear him talk about the American soldiers. He says we are the bravest bunch of boys he has ever seen. Nobody over here cares for anyone only the boys in khaki. If we keep on the way we are going, it's goodbye Germany. I have not seen any of the boys from Connelville, but when we get into battle we will all be together. I will deliver the food and ammunition to them."

HOSPITAL BAGS

Below Are Found Explicit Instructions for Making Them.

The bags should be 12x14 inches when finished; made of any washable material. Flowered chintzes and cretonnes are preferred by the men as being gay and cheerful. A white linen label should be attached two inches from the bottom and sewed all around on one side of the bag only. A casing should be run one inch from the top and two tapes with separate buttons on each side of the bag run through this casing. When the men are brought to the hospital they have quantities of little treasures in their pockets picked up on the battlefield, letters from home, photographs, etc. The clothing has to be taken away to be cleaned and repaired. The contents of a man's pockets are therefore put in these little bags. It is a great satisfaction to the convalescent soldier to have these little bags hanging at his bed-head, where he can touch it and take out the contents during the long hours of his convalescence. It is also a great relief for the hospital authorities to feel that these small belongings are kept together and not a care and responsibility to them.

EGG SUBSTITUTES

Serve No Good Purpose, Says Agent of the Department of Agriculture.

John Jenkins, a special agent of the dairy and food division of the Department of Agriculture, Harrisburg, was in the city today calling upon the grocers, drug stores and other establishments with reference to causing compounds and so-called egg substitutes. Most of these articles are misbranded. Analysis of them shows that they are made principally of corn and other starches, colored, and serve no purpose that cannot be served just as satisfactorily and much more cheaply by articles in daily use in every household. "If any economical housekeeper wants to save the cost of eggs and of egg substitutes as well," said Agent Jenkins, "it may be done by taking four tablespoonsful of milk and a half teaspoonful of cornstarch. This will be equivalent to a teaspoonful of a mixture of equal parts of dried milk and cornstarch, which are the essential ingredients of most of the brands on the market."

Avoid "Curiosity" Telephone Calls

IN these times of great public tension, something unusual may occur, causing a flood of "curiosity" telephone calls; such calls, made at such times, may seriously delay important messages.

You recall what happened at the time of the Eddystone, Pa., explosion—how the great volume of "curiosity calls" seriously congested the lines.

Telephone connections must be established as fast as the fingers of the operators can fly, and as lines are available, irrespective of the relative importance of the calls.

So you can render a service to yourself, to others and to the Telephone Company—responsible for service to all—if you will refrain from making "curiosity calls" and confine the use of your telephone to messages of real importance.

NOT AN ATOM OF WASTE

HENRY FORD DEMONSTRATES HE'S NOT AFRAID OF WORK; REPAIRS HIS DAMAGED CAR

During his enforced stay in Connellsville Monday, due to trouble with the engine of his automobile, Henry Ford, millionaire maker of the machine bearing his name, demonstrated that he is not afraid of work when necessary.

Somewhere between Greensburg and Connellsville two of the blades on the air fan that cools the engine broke and the Ford-Edison-Burrage-Hurley party stopped at the Wells-Mills garage to get it repaired.

Evidently Mr. Ford did not think Connellsville contained any expert mechanics, such as he is, so he set about to repair it himself. The parts were taken out of the auto and sent into the repair room of the garage, where Mr. Ford at once set to work. When he had completed the job he looked not unlike the rest of the mechanics. His hands were covered with grease and his new olive green suit was spotted here and there where he had placed his hands upon it.

John Burroughs, the aged naturalist, contented himself with a chair in the window of the garage and was a good talker with bystanders. Speaking to a Courier reporter he said: "I sometimes think I should not have gone on this trip but should be back home in my usual chimney corner where I belong. But I'm here now and I guess I will get through it some way or some how."

Thomas A. Edison kept himself busy during the war by sitting on an empty box in the repair room and reading a newspaper.

Charles Hartford "bossed" Mr. Ford's work of repairing the broken blades.

At the Theatres

THE PARAMOUNT.

"SCANDAL MONGERS"—The Bluebird picture, which is being shown at the Paramount theatre today, is one of the most talked about photodramas ever produced. The picture is extremely sensational and dramatic having been written from Louis Werber's "Scandal" production and the book by that name. There are no "slow action" spots in this picture as it teems with the most intense dramatic action from beginning to end. The title is especially adapted to the picture as it deals with those individuals who are forever spreading false reports and stories about others, when, at the same time, their own characters and actions are to be doubted. The picture is in five parts and includes an all-star cast which places it as one of the foremost in the Bluebird productions. A two-act selected comedy is also included. Tomorrow, World Pictures will present Madge Evans and Johnny Hines in "Neighbors." A feature of this picture is the sensational roller skating contest in which Madge wins the prize for the most original costume. Friday and Saturday will see Madge Kennedy in "The Fair Pretender."

ORPHEUM THEATRE.

"NAUGHTY, NAUGHTY."—End Bennett, the charming Australian "dud" of Thomas H. Ince, who recently created a furore in her Paramount debut in "The Keys of the Righteous," will appear today in "Naughty, Naughty." This is not, as the name would indicate, a travesty on light opera, but a whimsically funny, true-to-life story of a girl in a small mid-western town who struggles to bring to the narrow-minded natives, a realization of their loss in refusing to admit the newer forms of amusement. Incidentally her old-time sweetheart, editor of the local news sheet, is one of the narrowest of all—and it is to his regeneration especially that she turns her attention—with what success will be seen at the Orpheum today. Other numbers on the especially attractive program will be screen telegram and comedy.

The Kaiser As I Knew Him For Fourteen Years

By DR. ARTHUR N. DAVIS
Dentist to the German Ruler From 1904 to 1918

DR. DAVIS, a young American, born at Piqua, O., and graduate of a Chicago dental college, went to Berlin in 1904 to work with a famous dental surgeon who for years had been practitioner to the kaiser and other members of the German court. Within a short time Dr. Davis' associate committed suicide and the young American was established as the court dentist. In that capacity he became intimately acquainted with the kaiser, and the latter, in the course of dozens of friendly talks, revealed himself and his ambitions as he probably did to no other person outside his immediate circle.

Dr. Davis has written the story of his relations and interviews with the kaiser and we have arranged to print his remarkable narrative in serial form. The first installment will appear in an early issue.

This true narrative lays bare the mind of the despot who has deluged the world with blood. It shows by the emperor's own words how he has approved every act of cruelty and barbarity that the German armies have perpetrated during the war. It shows how the kaiser grew to hate and despise Americans and how he gave warning that the United States should be punished.

You Cannot Afford to Miss One Word of These Amazing Disclosures Watch for the Opening installment

To the friends, relatives and families of Pennsyl- vania Soldiers in France:—

ON SUNDAY, August 25, the PUBLIC LEDGER will issue a special Pennsylvania Hero Section, devoted to a description of the heroic deeds with which Pennsylvania's soldiers have distinguished themselves in France.

It will be the first complete publication of all the stories of individual heroism that have been reported separately by Raymond G. Carroll, the news associations and official dispatches.

It will contain photographs of Pennsylvanians killed, missing, decorated or to be decorated—an Honor Roll of undying fame.

It will give the history and personnel of Pennsylvania regiments in the firing line—where they organized, where and when they were trained, when sent overseas, what they have done in battle.

There will be letters from soldiers in France to their "home folks" over here, letters telling just what our boys think of it all.

In future years this supplement will become a treasured memento in every Pennsylvania home fortunate enough to possess a copy.

Nothing like this Hero Section has been published since the war began. Every home with a man in the army will want one or more copies, regardless of ordinary newspaper preferences. This demand is certain to quickly exhaust the edition. To avoid disappointment, notify your dealer immediately to reserve your copy.

OUR CHEERFUL BUT IMPATIENT SOLDIERS.

Every reader of The Courier must have noted, in reading the extracts from the letters of our soldier boys in France, the cheerful note that pervades them all. Not a word of complaint is uttered about any discomforts they may have to endure at times. The only impatience they display is over the delay in getting into action with the Huns. Knowing full well the perils of front line duty they are eager and willing to face them all with an intrepidity that knows no danger.

The boys who have already been in action are anxious to have another whack at the Huns. They have taken the measure of these boasted "in-vincibles" and know that they are no match for the keen, watchful, well trained, courageous Americans. They have beaten the Huns at every game except that of barbarous and inhuman warfare and are making them pay an awful price for their brutalities.

From every wounded soldier who has written home comes the statement, "I hope soon to be back with the company," or a similar expression, indicating their enthusiastic desire to perform their full duty, not to evade it for a single day or by any subterfuge. The boys make light of their wounds, impatience that they are even temporarily deprived of the privilege of having further part in "the big game."

Some may say that our soldiers are showing their eagerness to fight because they have all the freshness and vigor of youth and have not yet endured the hardships and sufferings of a long service like that of the French and British. This is true in a limited sense only. A long campaign will naturally temper and season them, mature their judgment, and make them less impetuous, but all these things will make them still better fighters. They will not lose any of their spirit and will to win, but each will have before him the accomplishment of the purpose which animated him the day he donned his country's uniform. That purpose is "to heck the kaiser." And they'll do it so completely that there will never be any more kaisers to lick.

WILL MAINTAIN OUR RECORD.

The collection of 481 cast-off automobile tires does not look like much of an undertaking. In a certain sense it is not, but when it is considered as an offering in behalf of the Red Cross, that it required a lot of hard work, the sacrifice of a vast amount of time and the more or less constant attention of a number of persons, it assumes different and larger proportions. The same proportions that all the efforts made in Connelville in behalf of the war relief agencies have assumed.

When a suggestion has been made to do this or that for the Red Cross,

Y. M. C. A., Navy League, or other organizations, there has each time been a group of patriotic and willing men and women, boys and girls, who have taken hold of the undertaking and carried it through to success.

Many of these undertakings have not been large, as measured in dollars and cents yielded by them, but the important fact to remember about each of them is that they have been promoted in a fine spirit of unselfishness and for worthy and deserving causes. It is this that has counted, less in the amount of money raised in the aggregate, than in the cultivation of a willingness to render useful serv-The success of each of these ventures in turn has carried the assurance that any project, having a legiti-mate or proper object in view as a means of helping to win the war, when it is in the hands of earnest, capable workers, can be "put across" in Connelville. We have shown that we can do this in three Liberty Loan drives, two Red Cross campaigns, one Knights of Columbus canvas. We will have a series of them beginning next month. It is well to begin to plan in advance so that we will make it easy and sure to maintain our record, as we will.There are no blowouts in the patriotism of the donors of automobile tires even if they did apply high pressure in helping to inflate the Red Cross fund.Some are disposed to regard the visit of Edison, Ford, Burroughs, Hurley and other notables as a great honor for Connelville. We view it differently and we believe they do too. It is not every day they are privileged to make a brief sojourn in so distinguished a place as the First City of Fayette.Patriotism is one of the crops that always flourish out at "Sunnyside" and "Sunny Jim" can at all times be depended upon to give it the proper fertilizer.The garage owners are several laps ahead of the government in prescribing their own conservation rules.The young men who have become 21 since June 5 will not forget that Saturday is another Honor Roll day.German strategy is now taking the form of advancing to the rear all along the western front."Hitting 'em again" is becoming a continuous performance with the French.

GERMAN EFFICIENCY.

I hope this country of the free will never know efficiency, as Germans understand it; for it has made its sponsors' name a thing of hissing and of shame—"was surely Joseph planned it.
Efficiency that doesn't lend the treaty or the written deed, the solemn pledge and promise, may be a great and useful thing as viewed by all uninitiated king, but I'm a doubting Thomas. And this efficiency that made of frightful-ness a gleaming trade, and riotous infury, may be a stately thing and wise as viewed by Kronprinz Friedrich's eyes, but I am from Missouri. Efficiency that's built on lies, that tries to blind a people's eyes with cooked up fact and fable, may suit the bonehead Tauton race, but as for me, you'll have to piece the blue prints on the table Efficiency that boasts of power, and falls down at the "eleventh hour" in every big endeavor, may please old Hindenburg and those who hypocritize our foolish foes, but it would suit me neither. Efficiency that has so soon put the Prussian in the hole, has made him banded and hated, until we hear the cry of men, "This world will not be clean again until he has been crated."

DEFEAT AND VICTORY.

Defeat and victory are kin,
And one must know them both to win.
He has not proved his worth at all Who has not suffered from a fall.
The victor's part man cannot choose, Who seeks to win, must learn to lose.Man-in his failures looks the best;
"Tis there he meets life's real test In every form of strife there lies A richer treasure than the prize, And he who places victory first Has set his standard with the worst.The brighter glories sometimes fall To him that men a failure call.
The goal he misses is his pride, For when his soul has long tried He chose to lose the victor's fame Than win by any trick of shame.Better it is to miss the goal Than stain the splendor of the soul.
And when at last the race is done And known are all who've lost and won, Our failures then may brighter glow Than all the victories we show.HUNS ARE BLUFFED, THEY'RE COWARDS, SAYS DEWEY MILLER"We've got the Germans bluffed, is the way Dewey Miller looks upon the war to date—that is, since the 110th Infantry got into action. Writing to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Miller, his date of July 22, he says:
"I received a letter from you today again and I was glad to hear from you. After all we have been through it seems like a God-send to hear about our homes back in the old U. S. A.
Since your last letter we have been under almost continuous shelling and for two days were in the thickest of battle. At present Jerry is on his way back. We are back of the lines.
I don't know how long we will rest here but it surely is quiet here now and I hope it will always be this way.
Only a small once in a while and that is tame. Believe me, Sherman may have thought the Civil War held, but mother, that was only a raiding party compared with this.
"We have lost four of our hospital boys, though we still hold hopes for them. We do not think they are killed, but prisoners of the Hun. Being medical men we hope for good treatment for them. But this is war, mother, and we must expect hard luck once in a while. If present conditions continue, peace will soon be made by Germany, for if she doesn't see defeatnow she will soon, believe me. We have them bluffed. They are cornered up something awful. So far, we have taken 25,000 prisoners and 400 guns, and most of them were caught by our men.""I have seen them come in in long strands and mother, they are still pouring in as we go forward. I have been near enough to be in the front trenches. I have seen the Hun creeping toward us but that is all the further he got. Our company in the path stood their ground to the last man and we held them fast. They are cowards, mother, and their morale was never lower. As a result, we are on their heels now and they are going back—fast, too.""I suppose you know all about our fight here, so I will not dwell on details, only we all did our part and helped in America's first great victory.
It is great to feel we have won and beaten the Huns. Mother, do not worry about me, for honestly I am not so dangerous as when, one is in the "push." As soon as we gain our objective things will quiet down a little and we will be given a rest.""It is pretty hard to get used to the noise, and all the lights and things, but when one does you can sleep through it all with ease. Well, I'll say goodbye, mother. Tell all the kids to write. Is Janice still growing?
Get together and send me some pictures of home and you all. I love to get them from time to time. I hope Dad and all are well. Give my love to all my friends."A postscript says, "Mail is coming in finely now, even in bottles."PAUL WAGONER WRITES OF MEETING LOCAL BOYS.A letter from Paul G. Wagoner of Company H, 320th Infantry, to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wagoner, of the West Side, says in part:"This is Thursday evening and I am feeling fine—a little better than usual because our company received mail and I was lucky enough to get three letters. McClelland Leonard and I were to see Bob Dunn but he was away. Then we traveled to another camp and found Bill Minard. I also saw some more Connelville boys—John Brown, Charles Gunka and Estel Rush."Paul speaks of his command having moved again and of being quartered in a large barn. "We have a very nice bunk here," he says. The letter makes no mention of the 320th being shifted to the Flanders front for training. General March, chief of staff, announced last week that the 8th Division, Camp Lee troops, was in training behind the British lines.SMITHFIELD BOY QUALIFIES FOR SHARPSHOOTING.SMITHFIELD, Aug. 21.—P. A. Rankin received his son Karl's clothing from Camp Sherman Monday with a letter accompanying them saying he had received his overseas equipment and that they had been ordered to an embarkation camp. Karl has qualified as a sniper in target practice in camp. He made 17 bull-eyes out of 20 shots at a thousand yards.Classified

DOCTOR PRESCRIBES VINOL

For Schoolboy to Create Strength After Sickness.

Vineland, N. J.—"I am a schoolboy, 17 years of age, and typhoid fever left me weak and debilitated, so I had to stay out of school three months—my doctor prescribed Vinol. It has built up my strength and now I am feeling fine."—S. E. Dunce.

The reason Vinol was so successful in this boy's case, it because it contains beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptones and gly-cerophosphates, the very elements needed to build up a weakened, rundown system, make rich, red blood and create strength.

What Was Coming.
On the night of the first big mistreel show in Richmond a private entered one of the boxes with a magnificently bejeweled and befringed woman on either arm. Lord Chesterfield had nothing on him for chival-rous bearing and grandiloquent concern for the comfort of the ladies.
They were conspicuously long in getting settled. Not being able to stand it any longer, or, perhaps, prompted by jealousy, a soldier in the balcony yelled down:

"That's all right, old top; you'll be washing dishes tomorrow."—Judge.

Flanders Mud.
The following is a Munchausen tale, showing the quality of the mud in Flanders at the present day:

A soldier walking along a road noticed a hat, which he attempted to kick out of the mud. What was his surprise to find a head under it and to hear a voice calling for help.

When the man was extricated he said: "I was on horseback." So together they proceeded to dig out the horse. The horse's mouth was found to be full of hay taken from a wagon which had sunk still farther down.

Save the Twine.
With bladders twice high in price, having it in quantities will be great economy. Small bundles use up considerable more twine than large ones.
It takes only a moment to adjust the size of the bundles and in no two prizes should the bundles be the same size this year. Every operator should regulate the size of the bundles to just about what grain will cure out nicely and still be small enough to handle.—Farm Life.

better advantage than for a jar of this

GIANTS SUFFER BIG JOLTS THIS SEASON

Injury to Ferd Schupp's Pitching Arm Proves Hard Blow.

Considered More Serious Than Illness of Larry Doyle, Niehoff's Broken Leg and Drafting of Kauff and Barnes.

One of the most disappointing strokes of tough luck that has fallen to the lot of the Giants this year is the injury to Schupp's pitching arm.

The Giants have suffered several hard blows in vital spots, such as the illness of Larry Doyle, Niehoff's broken leg and the drafting of Benny Kauff and Jess Barnes.

But with all these breaks the men of McGraw might still be optimistic if Schupp were only in shape to pitch as he pitched during the 1917 campaign.

Classed as one of the most brilliant young left-handers in either major league at the close of the 1917 season, Schupp seemed destined for a bright career in the National league. But early this spring while the Giants were at Marlin on their training trip, the young fork-hander hurt his left shoulder while zipping some fast shoots across the pan during a practice session, and since then he has not been able to take his turn in the box.

Figuring that Schupp has had more than two months of real baseball weather, coupled with the advice of no less a personage than Bonesetter Teece to help him whip his wing back into shape, the fact he is still unable to pitch effectively is a mighty serious blow to the New York club. It is doubtful, according to some members of the team, whether Ferdie will be able to come back at all this season, and unless he can nurse his shoulder into shape his career as a major league player may end.

Ferd Schupp.

Schupp was one of the big factors in the 1917 campaign of the champions. He took part in thirty-one games, of ball and finished the season with a record of twenty-one victories and only seven defeats.

MUST BE COURTEOUS

"Public be Damned" Policy Will Not be Tolerated, Says McAdoo.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Railroad employees have been specifically ordered by Director General McAdoo to show courtesy in dealings with the public and to cease excusing train delays and other errors with the plea that Uncle Sam is running the railroad now. "The public be damned policy will in no case be tolerated on the railroads under governmental control," said the director general's order addressed to all employees in the railroad service of the United States.

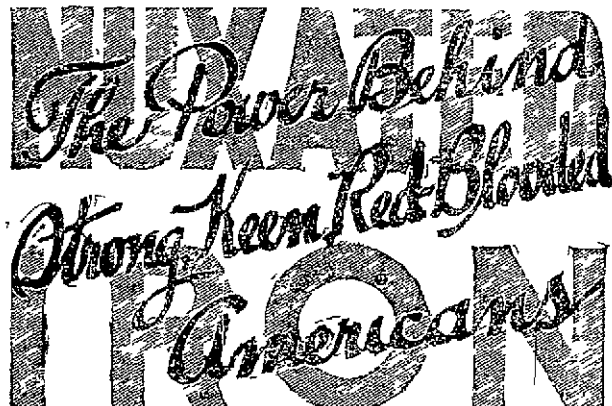

FARM JUST TO HIS LIKING

Newspaper Man Is Spending the Summer in What He Considers Ideal Spot for the Purpose

Certain of our readers have so far developed the detective instinct as to deduce from this column that we are spending the summer on a farm. They are nearly right. We are living on a country place which we consider the ideal farm for the city man. It is off the main road—in fact, even the side road terminates at our gate. It is miles from a railroad. Even the rural free delivery does not reach us. It is a very big farm, and there is a lake and a forest and a swamp on it. But that is not what makes it ideal for a city man—and especially for us. There are no horses, cows, chickens, ducks, geese or other live stock on this farm. There are no crops to bother with. The sprawling skunk and the mid night fox pass us by, for we have no poultry to interest such marauders. We weed the strawberry patch we hoe the potatoes we inspect the peas and beans, and our days farm labor is done, we retire to a well earned repose and are able to sleep by the frogs and the owls and the whippoorwills. It would be a dandy place for a gang of counterfeilers—or moonshiners. Do we hear any offers?—Exchange.

Ancient and Modern Roads.

Modern road engineers seem to have great difficulty in determining how a really good and substantial road should be built. This is hard for the layman to understand, when we consider the roads built by the Romans a thousand years ago which, except for neglect of the surface are still giving good service. Then there are the not able roads of the Continent, that have survived hundreds of years' traffic. It would seem that a study of such roads would furnish much needed information, but possibly the trouble lies in a futile attempt to get something for nothing by spreading the cost of one mile of good road over ten miles of makeshift—Scientific American.

The Power Behind Strong Keen Red Blooded Americans

"To help make strong, keen, red-blooded Americans there is nothing in my experience which is more valuable as orange iron—Buxton Iron." says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, Yonkers. "It often increases the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, run-down people in two weeks' time. It is now being used by over three million people annually, including such men as Hon. Leslie M. Shaw, former Secretary of the Treasury, and ex-Governor of Iowa; former United States Senator Richard Bland, Secretary of the Navy, at present Major of the U. S. Army; General John L. Clem (Retired), the drummer boy of Gettysburg, who was sergeant in the U. S. Army when only 12 years of age; also United States Justice G. W. Ashmun of the Court of Claims of Washington and others. Buxton Iron is dispensed by all good druggists everywhere."

REMINDS YOUNG OF OLD DAYS

Only Pitcher Who Ever Won 500 Games Comments on Playing of Wood and Ruth.

"It reminds me of the old days when we pitchers used to have to play the outfield when not working in the box," remarked Cy Young, the only pitcher who ever won 500 games as he sat in the press box at Cleveland and watched Joe Wood playing left field for Cleveland and Babe Ruth the same garden for Boston.

The news that Nick Altrock was pitching for Washington was broken to him and caused him to declare that if his arm were a little stronger he would come back and try to pitch again himself.

"A lot of new faces down there," he noted. "Two in the game that were in the American League when I quit. I guess Joe Wood and Speaker are about the only ones in the game I used to know those two and Harry Turner Jack Graney and Hance Wagner."

TYRUS COBB BOOED AT HOME

Jeered by Fans When He Drops Thrown Ball While Playing at First Base Position

Ty Cobb missed in his own town because he dropped a thrown ball during a recent game. The information flashed by a Detroit newspaper. Can you beat that?

Cobb has been playing first base because Jennings had plenty of outfield talent but nobody to hold down the initial sack. Ty accepted 42 chances without a slip up until the inevitable happened. Then the fans booed him—bissed the great Ty.

Private to Judge Private.

The French senate is being urged to resurrect from its grave on the table a bill passed some two years ago by the chamber which provides that every defendant before a court martial must have at least two judges of his own rank. The so-called Bona parte code of 1857 now in use provides this for officers but not for privates or noncommissioned officers and in fact no one below the rank of corporal, and only one of that grade sits on the judges' bench at present.

Army of Big Men

The men in the present American army are larger than those serving in previous wars. Larger sizes of shoes and clothing are continually being called for. Records in the quartermaster's corps show that a size larger than ever before is being demanded in blouses, shirts and breeches. "The stalwart Americans," is the universal comment Europe makes in regard to our soldiers.

The Importance of Being Well Dressed

It is a woman's duty to her family and her friends to look her best, but most of all it is her duty to herself.

Good clothes give a poise and assurance that are gained in no other way. The first requisite of the well-groomed woman is the corset, the foundation on which the gown is draped. If the corset is not adapted to the figure or has not the proper lines prescribed by fashion, all the charm and style of the costume are lost.

Redfern Corsets

$3.50 to $6.00

are designed for the woman of taste who wishes comfort and freedom in her corset. Most women know the Redfern standards of quality and fit. There are no weak spots. The cloth is as good as the boning—the boning as good as the garters. Every detail is in strict accord with the rest. Redfern corsets are here in a splendid variety of styles with exceptional showings at the intermediate prices.

Warner Corsets

$1.00 to $3.50

To the woman who wishes a very moderately priced corset, we have no hesitancy in recommending the Warner.

Warner Corsets fit well, wear well and keep their shape. Give naturalness to the figure as well as fashionable lines. Every Warner is positively guaranteed not to rust, break or tear. There is a special model for every type of figure—including yours.
